Mayor Explains Markets Bill.

Mayor Mitchel did not announce his starmination to have a third markets bill introduced in the Legislature until after he had a conference yesterday with George W. Perkins, chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Food Supply.

The means of carrying out this plan was a new department of markets, with a commissioner at the head, and such markets as the Board of Estimate would supply, the drafting of rules for the conduct of the public auctioneers, and the requirement of sufficient honds to insure the prompt return of all moneys to the farm producer. Both years the measures were never reported out of the Cities Committee."

One Bare Hand Leads to Recovery of $1,200 Gems Stolen From Clergyman.

The robber who stole $1.200 worth of jewelry Tuesday afternoon from the home of the Rev. Raymond O. Miller, assistant rector of St. John's Protestant Eplacopal Church in Jersey City, left a kind glove on a bed. It was a new glove and a weekl over the stole of the s

Half an hour before the robbery Nicolo Polombo, 11 years old, stopped at Bayonne police headquarters to inquire the way to the Juvenile Court, whither he had been summoned for playing hookey from Public School 3. Nicolo, the police noted, was wearing a pair of new kid gloves. They released several "A-ha's" when they heard of the theft at the clergyman's house, which is at $94 Hudson Boulevard, Bayonne, and found the clue on the bed.

Yesterday afternoon Truant Officer Ears Mitchell caught the boy parading ist's

GUIOMAR NOVAES IN PIANO RECITAL

Young Brazilian Gives Display of Beautiful Art in Acolian Hall.

Guiomar Novaes, the young Brazilian planist who has attracted much attention by her uncommon gifts, gave a recital yesterday afternoon in Asolian Hall. The chief numbers on her programme were Cesar Franck's prelude, there and furns thought mapromptu. chorale and fugue, Chopin's impromptu, opus 36, and his B flat minor sonata. She was heard by a large audience and applauded with sincerity.

Her playing yesterday was of an extremely high order, indeed such as to taise the question whether she is not a ready knocking at the gate of the temple of the elect. To describe the tech-nical features of her performance would be to enumerate the items of the planlet's art: but one thing must be espe-cially mentioned, to wit, the unfailing beauty and singing quality of her tone. Musically sensitive in the highest de-gree the young woman draws from her instrument a splendid and rich sonority, instrument a splendid and rich sonority, which is always agreeable and never-currages the nature of the plano. Furthermore, she has a fine command of eclor and her treatment of the melodic phrase is invariably artistic.

She gave a notably beautiful performance of the Cesar Franck composition. but she rose to an even higher level in the Chopin sonata. Her reading of the last movement was open to discussion, but the scherge was superbly done and the funeral march was delivered in a manner that conjured up memories of Hofmann and Paderewski.

Miss Novaes is already an artist of brilliant ability and she promises to reach even more excellence for the sound trived from his finger. Nicolo lives at reasons that she has a correct technical ground work, a sound intelligence and a usical spirit.
